DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

The references cited on PTO 1449 have been considered.

Specification

The specification has been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. However, the applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Objection

Claims 1 and 6 are objected to because it does not clearly recite preamble and body language. Also, in claim 6, line 2, "an" should be changed to --a first--. Appropriate correction is required.

CLAIM REJECTIONS

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 2861

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-7 and 10 are rejected under 35 USC 102 (b) as being anticipated by Childers et al. (US Pat. 6,227,638).

Childers et al. disclose in Figures 1-8 an ink jet recording apparatus comprising:

- an electronic memory device (26) for storing information on the contents of the ink tank (12), said ink tank comprising an elongated casing (72) having one end thereof adapted to be inserted into a mounting socket (14) of the ink jet printer in an essentially horizontal direction, said electronic memory device (26) being provided on a bottom side (74) of the casing (72) and configured to electrically engage the mounting socket (14) under the weight of the ink tank;
- a coupling member (20) extending from said one end of the casing and adapted to engage a coupling member (28) of the mounting socket (14) so as to fluidly connect the interior of the ink tank (12) with the ink supply system of the printer;
- wherein the electronic memory device (26) is configured as a button which is located near said one end of the casing.
- wherein the electronic memory device (26) is held in a mounting recess (80) formed on the outside of a bottom wall of the casing (Figures 6-7);
- wherein the button (26) has a casing (78) comprising a circumferential wall and a bottom wall which are both made of electrically conductive material but are electrically insulated from one another so as to form at least two electrical contacts (24).
- mounting socket (14) adapted to receive and hold an ink tank (12) which comprises a support arm which is provided with an upwardly biased spring contact (30) which is adapted to engage the electronic memory device (26) of the ink tank (12) (Figure 8); and
- wherein said support arm contains a second spring contact (30) which is adapted to engage a circumferential wall of the electronic memory device (26) (Figure 8).

Art Unit: 2861

Citation of Pertinent Prior Art

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. These prior art references (US Pat. 4,838,804; US Pat. 5,049,898; US Pat. 6,196,670; US Pat. 6,406,120; US Pat. 6,588,871) cited in the PTO 892 form show a memory that is deemed to be relevant to the present invention. These references should be reviewed.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 8-9 would be allowable if rewritten to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. These claims would be allowable because none of the prior art references of record discloses a mounting socket for an ink tank comprising a coupling member of the mounting socket adapted to be brought into engagement with a coupling member of the ink tank, the coupling members being held in engagement by snap-action, and wherein a second spring contact is biased against the circumferential wall of an electronic memory device in a direction opposite to the direction in which the coupling members are engaged in the combination as claimed.
